Local Blood Sent To Poplarville In Record Time

Again the Hancock County Blood Bank has proved its worth.

This time Blood Bank officials were notified that a resident of Hancock County was in bad need of plasma in the Poplarville hospital.

Judge Neilus Rhodes was notified immediately.

Promptly, he got in touch with the Highway Patrol in Gulfport, who in turn reached the Louisiana State Patrol, who picked up the blood at the Foundation Hospital, where it is stored.

Patrolman Bill Kenny met his Louisiana counterparts at the state line and proceeded to Poplarville with needed blood.

The total time that elapsed from the minute the Mississippi State Patrol was notified until the blood was delivered in Poplarville was one hour and 30 minutes.

The next drawing for the Blood Bank will be conducted on April 20th at the Bay St. Louis Youth Center.

Two coffee companies have again agreed to donate their product to give to the donors at the drawing.

Cub Scouts Get Awards

At a recent pack meeting given in the Pass Christian Yacht Club and attended by approximately 80 parents and guests, Cub Scouts of Pack 218 received promotions, merit badges, arrow points awards, service star pins, other emblems in recognition of advancement.

Investiture services admitted two new members into Den 2. Cubmaster, Dr. Robert Stewart conducted the ceremonies as Stephen Howard Swift and Faolan Wamsutter were presented bob-cat pins and membership certificates.

From Den 1 Tommy Latino, Wayne Ford and Audley Taylor received Bear badges.

In an impressive ceremony gold star service awards were presented the following cubs: Joe Elbert Allen, Phillip David, Wayne Ford, Tommy Phelps, Joe Farragut, Joe Kowalski, Tommy Latino, E. J. Necaise, Dale Pavlioni, Frank Ruspoli, James Shows and Audley Taylor. Service pins were placed on the cubs' uniforms by their mothers as the group of Honor Cubs stood in a semi-circle.

Mrs. George Gundlach gave the invocation, asking God's guidance, protection and inspiration for this group.

Mike Ellis, who recently completed his requirements and satisfactorily passed his test, was decorated and invested as Den Chief for Den 1.

Denners, elected by popular vote, were presented with their stripes. Joe E. Allen, a charter-member of Den 1, Pack 218, who distinguished himself as the first to merit both Wolf and Bear Badges, received Denner stripes and Tommy Latino was awarded Assistant-Denner stripe.

Den 2 elected as its Denner, Tommy Phelps with Steven Swift as assistant.

Den 3 elected as its Denner, J. LaSabe, and assistant-denner is E. J. Ladner.

Cubmaster Stewart presented badges to Den-mothers as follows: Den 1, Mrs. E. A. Allen, Den 2, Mrs. M. M. Swift, and Den 3, Mrs. Chas. Farragut.

In an attempt to acquaint the parents and guests with the work of cubbing, Dr. Stewart asked Mrs. E. A. Allen to explain a few of the projects completed and brief plans for coming meetings. Mrs. Allen, with the help of her boys, described the marble tournament, kite-flying day, Singing B, and overnight camping trip which covered the past month's activities for her group. She outlined plans for a train ride, a beach-combing, a nature hike, and Boys Will Sing program covering the next four meetings.

Arrow-points were awarded under the Bear Badge rank to Audley Taylor, Wayne Ford, Tommy Latino and Joe Elbert Allen. Arrow point under the Wolf Badge rank went to Dale Pavlioni.

Pack 218, recently reorganized, now has all advanced cubs under leadership of Den Mother Allen with Mrs. Chris Taylor as assistant, Bob Cats and workers toward Wolf Rank and divided evenly between Mrs. Swift and Mrs. Farragut.

MOTHERS HOWL AND TOSS REFEREE - A group of mothers playing in the annual Mothers-Daughters basketball game at St. Joseph Acad. is howl about a decision of the referee and finally end up tossing him off the court and having him arrested by Patrolman Bill Kenny. The poor referee, Billy Rhodes, was handed to the coal post for the rest of the game. Oh, what tricks those mothers won't go to win a ball away from their daughters.

Two Wills Involving Timber Are Contested

One of the most disputed lawsuits to arise in Hancock County in many years will go before the Chancery Court in the June Term. The case, which involves the wills of Misses Florence and Clamence Faye who lived in Fenton, will be heard in the cold weather, which is expected to continue through the night.

The robbery was detected Monday morning, when Mrs. Elizabeth Harrel, manager of the cafeteria, entered and found the door frozen, which she had left open Friday, almost midnight. The principle said, "My house is situated at the only gate and I check every car coming into the campus in an automobile."

Deputy Peterson announced that he was following up his initial investigation, by checking on several leads.

Peterson said, "The leads I have received are slim but there is a possibility that they may materialize."

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR
BUREAU OF LAND MANAGEMENT
WASHINGTON 25, D. C.

In making this public announcement

I am a candidate for the office of Sheriff of Harrison County.

I do not deem it necessary or advisable to make a formal statement about what I will do if elected.

The duties of the Sheriff are mainly prescribed by law and the only time that the Sheriff can be and be held to all the services is in times of emergency.

As far as the law is concerned, the law is prescribed by the state.

However, there is one provision that I will want to make and that is I will give as much as I can and important enforcement of the law. The only service provided under this act is equal enforcement of the law as I want from the enforcement of this section which would be the same as the other parts of the law.

An important clause in the law allowing the local administrator to be allowed to make any changes in the law that I want to make.

Having been a law enforcement officer of the county for several years I am willing to stand up to the record made by me in my enforcement of the law and have been selected as a member of the Mississippi State Legislative Assembly.

It has always been my policy to treat my citizens and not upon the character of any particular individual who might come against me. I have never indulged in any type of "hounding" and will not at this time allow it to begin again among those I have disappointed.

Four years ago I was a candidate for the office of Sheriff of Harrison County. I lost the election to Mr. W. E. Brink.

Gold Defeat Blues 15-7; Coach Comments on '55

The Gold team led by the hard running of Tommy Holden and the smooth handling of quarterback Grady Perkins, rolled to a 15-7 victory in the Bay High Spring football game.

Holden was the top offensive man of the day, scoring twice on nice runs.

The only touchdown chalked up the Blue team was made by Hugo Favre on a 70 yard punt return. The finest blocking of the day was made during the punt return by Tommy Jones, Henry Monti, John Perkins and Don Penton.

After reviewing the game in his mind Coach Lance Lumpkin said, "I was greatly satisfied with the game. We have two up and coming quarterbacks in Perkins and Allison. They both showed a great deal of confidence in the way they handled the teams and the way they called the plays."

"Definitely both teams put up a hard fight with Tommy Holden for the Golds and Henry

By GREGORY FAVRE

Time and time again the name of Forster Commagere pops up in everyday conversation. Many of the younger boys around town ask, "Who is Forster Commagere?"

They want to know what did he do and why is he so well known?

Well, according to the record books and from the testimony of many nationally famous athletes Forster Commagere was one of the most successful high school coaches in history.

He was a man, who set the pinnacle of example for his "boys," as he called his athletes. He coached at St. Stanislaus for a number of years and wound up his official coaching career at the Gulf Coast Military Academy.

To a large group of boys Mr. Forster is remembered most of all for his pioneer work here with an American Legion baseball team.

The very first time that Bay St. Louis entered such a team in the state.

Monti for the Blues playing some fine linebacking."

He continued, "Out of both these squads we should really get a good team for next season. But, we will have to have a good team if we expect to represent our team honorably in the Doto Conference. All of the members with the exception of Lucedale will have practically the same team starting and Lucedale should have a real good team by the time we meet them in November. Therefore, we have already begun to worry about the 1955 schedule. Which will be tough."

"Definitely both teams put up a hard fight with Tommy Holden for the Golds and Henry

With Forster Commagere at the reins St. Stanislaus fielded much more than a bunch of high school players. His teams played college freshman teams in football, the Atlanta Crackers and other well seasoned baseball teams competed in the National A. A. U. Track meets and were the holders of the National Catholic School basketball title.

Many say that the material in those days was better than it is today. That could be true. But they had to be taught. And Forster Commagere was a master at this trade.

Men like Marchie Schwartz, Zeke Bonura and Mayor John "Baby Grand" Scafide received their initial training from Mr. Commagere.

Once in an article for a New York paper, Marchie Schwartz was quoted as saying, "Forster Commagere is the only man I know who can compare to Knute Rockne."

This was high tribute. But one that was well deserved.

Mr. Forster was an institution in Bay St. Louis, not just an individual. He was the hero of many, many kids, and he was the weapon used to combat juvenile delinquency in this community and many others like it.

All of his efforts were directed toward one goal. The building and bettering of youth.

He always had time to discuss any problems or any matter with youngsters.

Every afternoon following school, you could see a group of boys around Mr. Forster, while he told them of one of his experiences during his lifetime.

One of the funniest he ever told, concerned Zeke Bonura, the big, gangling first baseman who played with the Chicago White Sox, after receiving his diploma from Stanislaus.

"Zeke," Mr. Forster would say, "Would always swing for the fences. I tried to break him of this habit but he kept on doing it. So finally one day I told him that if he swung for the fences again I would hit him in the head with a bat."

"Well the next time Zeke stepped to the plate he hit one a country mile, that was an easy home run. But, he got to third base and sat down. He wouldn't come in because he was afraid I would really hit him."

Nat Tyser, a judge in Hammond, La., was Mr. Forster's most outstanding track man.

Mr. Forster kept a photograph of Judge Tyser in his album.

This picture was taken of the judge in his track uniform with only half the medals he had won. They covered the entire front of his track shirt.

Yes chapter upon chapter could be written about the accomplishments of Forster Commagere. But to sum them up in one phrase, your writer will borrow the words written on the monument erected for this man on the grounds of the county courthouse.

They are, "His life and Ideal—His Memory An Inspiration. A Moulder of Character. A friend of the Youth and All Humanity." That was Forster Commagere.

four trips to the plate while Chi-som had a perfect day in two times at bat.

Kenny Artigues, Alfonso Al-

dape and Rhodes each scored a run for Stanislaus.

For those who fish with earth worms or (night crawlers) as they are also called - you might like to know that you can grow all the worms you want by just spreading manure and leaves in fifty square feet of soil and in it you may grow a thousand worms.

Coach Herb Adams said, "The boys didn't look too good. They weren't alert and weren't thinking baseball. We made some bad plays during the game that were costly."

Take that same space, replace all soil to a depth of a foot with proper materials and you can produce 35,000 worms, says Earl Franklin Kennamer who wrote the article in "The Fisherman." Worm fishing is profitable here about. Just use a perch pole and some worms.

You fellows who sit around and complain of aches and pains - why don't you start fishing or playing golf or something, it is good for what ails you and remember the old saying, "You can't put a price on that elusive something you get from the out-of-doors."

Some ventured out but were glad to return home. Outlook for this weekend looks good - warm weather is predicted and good fishing!

You fellows who sit around and complain of aches and pains - why don't you start fishing or playing golf or something, it is good for what ails you and remember the old saying, "You can't put a price on that elusive something you get from the out-of-doors."

George Horton has made a handy barbecue arrangement to use over the open fire by the kids to use up the river on camping trips - ask him about it. It's a dilly! Scouting, take heed!

Heard about that 4-pounder (green trout) August Rauxet caught recently. It's a fact!

The bridge tenders say that there's not much fishing or crabbing on the two bridges just now. Won't hurt to try it anyhow this weekend.

Wanted: Tall Tales

Can you imagine what kind of world we live in when the wittiest things we do is write up a little story and have it printed ever after?

Well, most characters in our world are just as bad as the stories and other than a few who are the exception to the rule, I think a regular character is hard to find. That's why I think there's something wrong with the world.

"There must be a reason why we have a hard time finding a good character," I said. "I mean, if we had a good character, we'd have a hard time finding a good character."

Mr. Bert, our editor, who is a regular character, says the best way to find a good character is to look for one in the library.

In fact, he says the best way to find a good character is to look for one in the library.

A good character is a happy one.

Pat Does It Again

Pat is in front of us like our lights under a bushel, and when the lights are pretty and sparkling, we'll be happy the person that made them.

This week's example is Pat and his son, Pat, who has walked off with socks before.

She's now been named the new winner of a $500 scholarship for outstanding public leaders and will go to the state contest. Bands and the public now but the national winner will receive a scholarship.

More power to Pat.
